WELCOME

Prof. Fang Huang

Dean of International Education College

“This summer UPC is proud to bring together enthusiastic and intellectually curious students from across the world to study new areas of knowledge and explore different ideas and ways of thinking.

We offer an exciting range of courses, all taught in English in small classes by experienced academics and experts from around the world. It is an intense and rewarding way to learn, highly effective at developing the use of critical thinking and logical argument. You will improve your skills of analysis and gain an excellent foundation for future academic and career success.

Our beautiful college campus in Qingdao will be your home for the duration of the program. We have a green, smart, and multicultural campus where you find the finest academic resources and most advanced learning and research facilities, all open to faculty and students. From a city walk to a Chinese Tai Chi performance, from easy Chinese language learning to traditional Chinese painting, from Chinese calligraphy practice to a tea art show, our social and cultural activities will give you an authentic taste of the unique student experience in China, making friends and having fun as part of a diverse international cohort.

In this prospectus you will find more information about our range of courses. In every single one, you can dive into topics of special interest with personalized attention of expert academics, study among like-minded students from across the world, and gain an edge for your academic and professional future. We look forward to welcoming you to UPC.”

ABOUT

China University of Petroleum (East China), abbreviated as UPC, is a national key university directly under the administration of the Ministry of Education and a member of the “211 Project Universities” and “985 Project Innovation Platform Universities”.

It is home to 1000-plus international students from around 70 countries. Annually, UPC receives 500-plus visits by international academics for teaching, academic exchanges and research cooperation. We do everything possible to ensure international faculty and students feel welcomed into the UPC community. They are cherished as part of our global community.

UPC campus is located in Qingdao city, a well-known international tourist and overseas study destination. The weather here is quite agreeable, with moderate temperature and distinct four seasons. Qingdao ranks 13th in terms of GDP out of China’s 600-plus cities. It has economic and trade ties with over 200 countries and regions. People living in Qingdao enjoy beautiful scenery, diverse exotic building styles, convenient transport, and vigorous international communication.
